DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3-8, 11-15, 19-24, 28-30, 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hojabri, U.S. Patent # 6,236,269 B1.

Fig. 2 of Hojabri discloses a circuit comprising: transistors M29, M30 can be read as a differential pair or a first amplifier; input terminals Im, Ip can be read as a pair of differential input terminals; outputs at drains of transistors M29, M30 can be read as output port or output node; voltage at gates of M445, M446 can be read as a gate bias voltage; transistor M12 can be read as a current source which produces bias current; VDD can be read as a supply voltage; transistors M38, M39 can be read as an active load ground can be read as a reference node (see spec. col. 3, lines 1-3, col. 4, lines 26-33).

Regarding claim 14, see spec. col. 3, lines 24-30.

Regarding claims 19-24, although Hojabri does not have his method written out structurally, the method resides inherently in his apparatus.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 26, 28-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hojabri, U.S. Patent # 6,236,269 B1.

Although Hojabri does not have an antenna connects to the input of the first amplifier, nor does he have a second amplifier connects to the output of the first amplifier, it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to connect an antenna and a second amplifier to the amplifier of Hojabri to have a practical use for the circuit (first amplifier) of Hojabri since this is well known in the art and a matter of design choice.

Regarding claim 31, although Hojabri has a load transistor instead of a load resistor, it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to substitute a load resistor for a load transistor since both perform the same function as this is well known in the art and this is a matter of design choice.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2, 9, 10, 16-18, 25, 27, and 36 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. U.S. Patent # 5,696,459 contains some limitations of the claimed invention.
